Momiji-gari もみじ狩り

As Japan enters into late autumn, the leaves begin turning red and yellow. People head to the mountains in search of the vibrantly colored leaves, this is called "Momiji-gari", which literally means "hunting for autumn leaves". Many people visit the ancient capital of Kyoto and other sites, hikers go to the forest and mountains famous for autumn leaves.

Ukai 鵜飼

Cormorant fishing, an ancient method of catching Ayu (sweetfish or trout-like fish), handling cormorants.
This usually takes place at night under the blazing torches fastened to the prows of fishing boats from May until October.

Momiji-gari もみじ狩り

As Japan enters into late autumn, the leaves begin turning red and yellow. People head to the mountains in search of the vibrantly colored leaves, this is called "Momiji-gari", which literally means "hunting for autumn leaves". Many people visit the ancient capital of Kyoto and other sites, hikers go to the forest and mountains famous for autumn leaves.
