● Nature

It snowed a lot in the Yumoto Onsen area at the end of December.

Those who joined the snowshoeing tours seemed to have thoroughly enjoyed the powder snow, which is a characteristic of this area, and the walks in the snowy forest.

Three snowshoe trails around the area have been marked with colored ribbons, all of which are now accessible. Each course is marked with a red, blue, and green ribbon, which can be followed to return to Yumoto Onsen area. The 2D barcode has been added at the entrance for downloading the course map. It is recommended to download the course map in advance to check the information.

The Akanuma parking lot, which is usually closed for the winter, will be open for testing from January 7th to February 12nd.

● Information

The winter closure information map was published by Nikko city office. You can check it on Nikko tourism association website. Nikko Tabi Navi <http://www.nikko-kankou.org/news/index.cfm#w971> (Japanese text only)
