Kurinsou (Primula japonica) at Senjugahama Beach

Watasuge (Eriophorum vaginatum) at Senjugahara Marshland

Shiurizakura (Padus ssiori) at Yumoto Onsen

● Nature

Kurinsou (Primula japonica) at Senjugahama Beach has been splendidly growing up since last week. Best time to see it. At Senjugahara Marshland and Odashirogahara Marshland, Zumi (Malus toringo) has past its prime period, whereas Watasuge (Eriophorum vaginatum) runs riot there instead. It's also the best time to see Shiurizakura (Padus ssiori) and Rengetsutsuji (Rhododendron japonicum) at Yumoto Onsen.

● Information

Lake Chuzenji Cruise ship heading to Senjugahama Beach is suspended up until further notice, due to that water level of Lake Chuzenji remains insufficient. Regarding Low Emission Bus from Akanuma to Senjugahama Beach, bus seats might not be available due to full occupancy by so many tourists during this season, so please be informed. Last but not least, please be sure to take appropriate preventive actions against bear attack, as Okunikko is a habitat of bears.
