Harumination

Installation of special Japanese umbrella illuminations - only for this spring season.

Otemachi, Marunouchi, and Yurakucho were once the heart of Edo, lined with the residences of leading feudal lords.

In the quiet office district of Otemachi, we bring back the warmth that once enveloped the streets of Edo.

Would you like to feel the "Spring Lights" that connect the memories of Edo with the present?

Available every day during the event

Wa-illumination

The origin of "Harumination" is the "Wa-illumination," an event featuring Japanese umbrellas and lanterns, now in its 7th year and a new tradition in Otemachi. Started in the summer of 2017 by six people who met at "Marunouchi Morning University," the event aims to create vibrancy and share history in Otemachi. Together with umbrella craftsmen, the concept of this event is "Lighting up the town." Through the calming Japanese light-up of umbrellas and lanterns, it creates a space where people can experience the town's history and culture.

February 1 (Sat) - February 28 (Fri)

和あかりの路
Path of Nippon Lights

Traditional Japanese umbrellas, lanterns, and bamboo crafts are displayed in the 220m-long Gyoko Underground Gallery near Tokyo Station.

*Open from 6:30 AM to 12:30 AM
