1. A character makes its debut in “Haunted Halloween” — the park’s most thrilling and immersive horror experience ever, filled with screams and heart-pounding thrills.

Set against the backdrop of the real palace, "Palace Huis Ten Bosch," this year's "Haunted Halloween" welcomes a terrifying new character: the tyrannical Death King. With the arrival of this towering, sinister new ruler of darkness, the experience has been elevated to the most thrilling in its history — delivering screams and pure excitement like never before.

In front of the palace, pirates, mummies, and other messengers of darkness roam freely, creating an otherworldly atmosphere chilling enough to make your spine tingle just by being there. They lurk in the shadows and strike without warning, catching guests completely off guard.

Then, just when the screams reach their peak, the messengers of darkness suddenly break into dance — launching an irresistibly addictive dance night show where you scream and dance right alongside them.

This year brings brand-new songs and choreography, sweeping you from a world of terror into a frenzy of pure excitement, and leaving you with an overwhelming sense of exhilaration.
